Annual Meeting '80 At Home In Annapolis— April 18

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 1979
NEWPORT MEETING

Move back down the coast with us—to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis for the Naval Institute's 106th Annual Meeting. We broke all meeting attendance records last year at the Naval War College—and even had to rent a tent to handle our social hour overflow. After the business meeting, our members toured the famous replica of the Providence, first command of John Paul Jones, and enjoyed a massive 105th meeting anniversary cake.

Help us continue a long and rich tradition this year at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, permanent home of the Institute and site of its founding in 1873. Our meeting will be held on Friday, April 18, at 1600 in Mitscher Hall.

Please plan to get to Mitscher Hall well before the meeting because here's what we have planned for you:

- Meet our department heads. They will all be in the lobby at 1430 to talk and visit informally with members. Here's your opportunity to discuss the Naval Review, talk about recent Proceedings articles, or learn more about the Oral History Program.
- Sign in at our guest book beginning at 1430 and pick up your complimentary Annual Meeting memento—our Italian scarf with the Institute's seal. Available in blue and red, these scarves are free to only the first 225 members to sign in.
- Meet our authors at 1500 during our triple-barrelled autograph party! Meet Jack Sweetman, author of The U. S. Naval Academy—An Illustrated History; Captain Dick Knott, author of The American Flying Boat; and Jud Henderson, author of Sail and Power—all 1979 best sellers! Bring your own book for signing or buy one at the autograph party at your special member's price.
- See our blue ribbon photo exhibit. The winning photos in the 1979-80 Naval and Maritime Photo Contest will be on display for the first time.
- Browse through the book exhibit and get an advance look at the titles to be published in the next few months.
- Join us in honoring former Board of Control member Tom Buell on the publication of Master of Sea Power, his smashing new biography of Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King. Meet the author and look over the book that's destined to be a modern classic.
- Visit the other interesting displays. We've got some surprises in store for you.

The Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Thomas B. Hayward, U. S. Navy, will preside at the Annual Meeting in his capacity as President of the U. S. Naval Institute. Highlights of the meeting will include the presentation of awards and the President's annual address—sure to be unusually significant this year in light of dramatic naval developments around the world. Following the address, Admiral Hayward and other Board of Control members will entertain questions during the general discussion period.

An informal reception will follow the meeting in the Mitscher Hall lobby—Reflection Pool area, affording an additional opportunity for discussions with Naval Institute Board members, staff members, special guests, and other Institute members. The cocktail buffet and the conversation are always exceptional. You, your spouses, and your other interested guests are welcome!
